

Two designers creating a roadmap to a simpler more fulfilling lifestyle

DeWayne Lumpkin began graphically reproducing British route signs onto fabric and then used the fabric to upholster furniture, cover pillows, drape windows, or simply framed the fabric in big oversized frames. His company can be found at British Route Sign Designs. His ingeniously upholstered pieces are among my favorites and would make a strong statement in any green environment.

Last week when the weather once again refused to let go of winter we decided it was time for a little
